

LEGISLATORS TO HOMES AS LONG SESSION ENDED

Last Action on Major Measures at 5:15 p. m. Tuesday

LONGEST ASSEMBLY IN STATE HISTORY

Windup Comes With Approval of Appropriations Measure

JEFFERSON CITY, June 9.—Missouri's 184 legislators were getting re-acquainted in their home towns today after more than five months' absence.

Many house members—unable to believe it was really over—came back for a while in the evening, then scattered save for a few who observed the biennial custom of a farewell song-fest in the corridors.

The governor has signed 80 of the approximately 180 bills passed by the assembly. Eleven have been vetoed, and the rest are to be acted upon.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 9.—(AP)—More than five months of law-making—a record-breaker for length—came to an undramatic finish late last afternoon, with a swift exodus of tired but happy legislators following the final windup of the 59th general assembly.

The last legislative action came at 5:15 p. m., when the senate passed the controversial "omnibus" appropriations bill, carrying $15,600,000 in expenditures for the 1937-38 biennium.

An hour earlier the house had approved the measure, thus paving the way for the break-up.

The hilarity, the singing, and the general celebration which usually accompanies adjournment was lacking. The midnight finishes, say the old-timers, are more dramatic.

Records will show sine die adjournment at 11:59 p. m. At that time clocks in both legislative chambers were stopped while officers and clerks prepare the latest bills for presentation to Governor Lloyd C. Stark for his approval.

An attempt by the house to include in the "omnibus" bill an appropriation of $4,000,000 for retroactive old age assistance payments delayed the windup for several hours.

The house at first rejected the conference committee report because this item was deleted. Reconsideration of this action completed the house business.

The Casey social security bill, grouping the administration of old age assistance, relief and child welfare activities under a single commission, ran into little opposition, although some exceptions to the committee report were made.

Shortly before adjournment, the governor sent a message of appreciation to the legislature.

"I wish to thank the members of the 59th general assembly, on behalf of the people of Missouri, for the fine record of constructive legislation they have made," he said. "No legislature in recent history of the state has had so many problems of far-reaching importance to deal with, and none has made a better job of it."

"You can return to your people with a feeling of satisfaction, a knowledge of work well done in their behalf. This legislature will be judged in future, not by the capricious criticism of the moment, but by the permanent and beneficial results which will follow such legislation as the social security bill, the drivers license measure, unemployment insurance, parole board, cancer hospital and narcotic bills and other constructive measures."

"While the success of these laws depend upon the way they are enforced and carried out, I feel safe in saying that no administrative authority in this state will dare disregard the welfare of the people by laxity or indifference in that connection."

"So far as the governor's office is concerned, I pledge my best efforts, and the hearty cooperation of everyone working under me, to faithfully carry out the spirit, as well as the letter, of the laws that have been enacted—laws which touch the lives of all of our people in some degree."

There was some confusion in the senate when the end came. Senator Joseph H. Brogan of St. Louis, Democratic floor leader, moved the body adjourn "under the rules," which meant until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

THIEVES BURGLARIZE THE MISSOURI INN

The Missouri Inn, 105 South Missouri avenue, was broken into sometime early this morning by thieves who stole twelve cartons of cigarettes, two hams, an electric fan and a small amount of money out of an electric piano which they broke. Entrance to the place was gained by opening a small window.

Highlights Of Last Session

JEFFERSON CITY, June 9.—(AP)—Jimmie Dunavant, of Jefferson City, youngest and smallest page, presided over a mock session of the senate during the afternoon while that body was "at ease" waiting for a house vote on the omnibus appropriations bill. He had to pound for order when Senators Ray Mahoe of Unionville and Raleigh McCormick of St. Louis county got into a discussion of golf scores.

Albert M. Clark, Richmond, senate president pro tem, finished the session with a record of having been present "every minute of every day."

A last-minute attempt to declare void passage of the bill halving automobile license fees was made in the house by V. E. Phillips of Kansas City, house ways and means committee chairman. Phillips—from whose committee the bill was taken by a floor vote—raised a technical objection but his motion was shouted down. The measure is before Governor Stark.

Chairman James S. Rollins of Columbia, of the senate appropriations committee, put the motion for passage of the last bill.

The legislature authorized expending more than $86,000,000—or $6,000,000 more than the estimated income—from the general revenue fund. Governor Stark will have to veto appropriations down to fit revenues, or—in the case of departments directly under his control—hold down their expenditures.

A "skeleton" force will carry on for the assembly during the 10-day period allotted for wind-up business. Speaker J. G. Christy of the house and Lieutenant Governor Frank Harris, who presides over the senate, will sign bills during that time, but the records will show adjournment "at 11:59 p. m. June 8," when the clocks were stopped.

Governor and Mrs. Stark entertained the senate at breakfast today, and members of the house at a buffet luncheon.

ORDERS PROTEST ON MINE EXPLOSION KILLING SEAMEN

British Government Puts The Blame on Spanish Insurgents

By The Associated Press

Great Britain blamed the Spanish insurgents today for the death of eight British seamen and the wounding of 24 on May 13, when the British destroyer Hunter struck a mine off southeastern Spain.

The London government ordered its ambassador, Sir John Dill, to protest to Generalissimo Francisco Franco's administration at Salamanca and reserved the right to claim damages.

It said the explosion was "accidental," but a spokesman declared the government understood the insurgents had laid mines in the high seas off Almeria, the scene of the blast, and in other places, and that the Hunter hit one of them.

Incidents of similar nature were in part responsible for withdrawal of Italy and Germany from the international neutral naval patrol of Spain. But there was no indication Britain would follow their example.

Instead, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden was working to bring both the Fascist powers back into the neutrality group. In Berlin official sources predicted Germany and Italy would rejoin the naval patrol by the end of the week.

They left the international organization May 31, the day German warships shelled Almeria, Spanish government port. The previous week, the German pocket battleship Deutschland and the Italian auxiliary vessel Barletta had been bombed by Spanish government planes.

On the Spanish war front, government soldiers strengthened newly won positions on the northwestern edge of Madrid, besieged since last November.

Along the Mediterranean coast, the government stationed a special vigilance fleet and anti-submarine defense on the heels of two days' shelling of coastal points by insurgent warships.

DISCUSS PLAN TO BRING MILLIONS TO TREASURIES

Would Lift Income Tax Exemption to Public Employees

FEDERAL AND STATE ACCORD NECESSARY

Law May Be Sought To Include Tax Exempt Securities

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Senate leaders decided today to accept the compromise resolution passed by the house for a congressional investigation of tax evasion and avoidance.

The decision was made so as to speed start of the inquiry next week.

After conferring with other leaders, and treasury officials, Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) of the senate finance committee said he would move tomorrow that the senate concur in the amendments added by the house to the senate resolution proposing the investigation.

The house amendments restricted publicity to be given the inquiry. The senate had voted for almost unrestricted authority to publish income tax returns.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Treasury officials said today states would have to join the federal government in a reciprocal tax program if millions in revenue now lost through exemptions are to be channeled into public treasuries.

President Roosevelt told his press conference he always had favored removing income tax exemptions which are granted federal and state employees. He said he believed in come from securities now exempt should be taxed.

Two other developments helped make taxation a major topic of capital discussion:

1. The house approved a resolution for an inquiry into tax dodging, but voted to restrict publicity. The senate must agree to the limitations or seek a compromise.

2. United States Chamber of Commerce officials predicted business spokesmen would seek modification of the new undistributed profits tax.

Discuss Removal

The President, discussing the removal of exemptions, said a constitutional amendment was necessary.

HEAVY RAINS OVER MOST ALL STATE

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, June 9.—Heavy rains fell over practically all of Missouri last night and early today and there was little prospect for clear skies before tomorrow.

A 4.40 inch downpour at Lamar in Southwest Missouri caused a few streets to overflow for a short time.

At Springfield a 5.6-mile gale, the highest wind ever recorded there, before daylight broke hundreds of trees and telephone poles and unroofed dozens of small buildings.

The wind was accompanied by a terrific thunderstorm, and 1.47 inch of precipitation.

With moderate temperatures prevailing, the maximum Tuesday was 84 degrees, while the low was 46 degrees at Maryville.

An early morning rain here soaked hundreds of persons as they were going to work. At 10 p. m. precipitation here measured 2.51 inches. Jefferson City had a 2.24 inch rain during the night and St. Thomas in Cole county was soaked with a 3.58 inch downpour.

Heavy overnight rains were reported in Western Kansas.

Kansas City reported an .82 inch rain during one hour early this morning, with Sedalia reporting a 1.07 rainfall during the night. A steady rain through the night brought an inch of moisture to Columbia and 2.25 inches at Hermann.

Other points reported rainfall as follows: Clinton, 2.67; Warsaw, 2.98; Harrisonville, 1.79; West Plains, 1.59; Lexington, .78; Rolla, .88; Booneville, .58; Arcadia, .62; Cullitts, .46; Poplar Bluff, .62; St. Joseph, .38; Macon, .10; Unionville, .20; and Hannibal, .09.

ARREST HEAD OF LANSING UAW LOCAL

By The Associated Press

LANSING, Mich., June 6.—Lester Washburn, president of the Lansing local of the United Automobile Workers, was arrested at Mason, Mich., today on illegal picketing charges similar to those placed against his wife and seven other persons.

Arrest Monday of the eight pickets prompted a "labor holiday" demonstration of U. A. W. members halting industrial operations in the state capital.

Washburn pleaded not guilty before Justice William Seelye at Mason and was released pending trial July 1. Trials of Mrs. Washburn and four other defendants charged with interfering with workmen at the Capitol City Wrecking Company where a strike was in progress, also were postponed until that date.

LEAD IS TAKEN FROM REPEALISTS

ATLANTA, June 9.—Heavy anti-repeal voting in rural counties today took the lead away from repealists in yesterday's prohibition referendum in Georgia.

A tabulation at 1:35 p. m. eastern standard time showed:

For repeal $1,166; against repeal $2,881.

This tabulation, based on returns from 1,298 of approximately 1,700 precincts in the state, gave anti-repealists a lead of 1,715 votes.

Late unofficial tabulations added to the big majorities for 26 state "new deal" constitutional amendments sponsored by Governor E. D. Rivers.

JUSTICE SUTHERLAND SAILS ON EUROPEAN VACATION

NEW YORK, June 9.—Supreme Court Justice George Sutherland sailed today for a European vacation after reiterating he had no intention of retiring.

The justice, considered one of the "conservative" members of the court, said he and Mrs. Sutherland would return before the court reconvened in September.

PILGRIMS' GROUP TOLD CONDITIONS ARE MENACING

Pope Pius Disperses Reports Vatican May Moderate Its Attitude

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy, June 9.—Pope Pius told a group of Bavarian pilgrims today that conditions in Nazi Germany were "so menacing and so dangerous" for Catholicism that "they cause one to weep."

"It is a consolation to us," he told the pilgrims, "that we are able to weep with you and to console you as a father consoles his children."

"We always have done what is possible to alleviate these great sufferings. We shall continue to do so, no matter what is said of us."

His words served to dispel persistent but unconfirmed reports that the Vatican would moderate its attitude toward Germany, where many priests and lay brothers have been placed on trial on "immorality" charges, because of representations by the Italian government.

Fascist Italy and Nazi Germany have an "understanding" on international matters.

Call on Pope to Visit Germany

BERLIN, June 9.—The official organ of Fuehrer Adolf Hitler's picked Schutz Staffels guards, Schwarze Korps, called on Pope Pius today to come to Germany and find out for himself the facts of the breach between the Catholic church and the Nazi government.

Schwarze Korps' injection of the personal issue into the conflict followed an official press demand that Germans choose between Hitler and the Vatican.

"We must now demand one single decision," the government-controlled Westdeutscher Beobachter at Cologne said editorially. "Are you willing to obey Adolf Hitler more than a church government which long ago became a secular power?"

T. W. CLONEY BUYS THE COTTON FARM

Woodford Farm, consisting of 606 acres, one of Pettis county's finest and most improved farms, has been sold by its owner, W. Stockton Cotton, to T. W. Cloney, 509 West Broadway, whose grandfather, the late Major William Gentry formerly owned the land and built the lovelylick home on the place. The consideration was not made public.

Mr. Cotton will retain possession until December 1, when he expects to move to Sedalia. Mr. Cloney is in Chicago at the present time and therefore could not be reached for an interview concerning his future plans for the farm.

Woodford Farm, on Route 5, northwest of Sedalia is part of a 10,000-acre tract of land owned by Major Gentry, and was the location on which he erected his home, the scene of many of Pettis county's social affairs.

It was later owned by Major A. P. Morey, and in 1909 was bought by Mr. Cotton, whose home it has been for the past twenty-eight years.

Table For Collection of Advanced Sales Tax

JEFFERSON CITY, June 9.—(AP)—Having multiplication table trouble since Missouri's 2 per cent sales tax went into effect?

So's your grocer—so don't apologize.

Remember, for sums ending in 0 or 5, it's now a mill for every nickel. For odd sums in the bargain basement—or elsewhere—use this table prepared by State Auditor Forrest Smith:

STRIKE AT ST. LOUIS STOCKYARDS ENDS

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., June 9.—Trading was resumed in the National Stockyards today following settlement of the two-day strike of 300 union stock handlers.

The strikers, members of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workers, of the American Federation of Labor, voted last night to accept a 52-cent minimum wage scale, a six-cent increase, under a one-year contract offered by officials of the stockyards company.

The union, demanding 55 cents an hour, previously had rejected offers of 48 and 50 cents an hour.

Pickets were withdrawn under the agreement, which also provided for a 48-hour work week, with time and one-half for overtime.

The men returned to work immediately, to feed more than 30,000 hungry cattle, hogs, and sheep in the pens when the stockyards were closed yesterday. Ineffective attempts at caring for the livestock had been made by office employees, and inexperienced workmen.

H. A. Powell, secretary of the livestock exchange, announced receipt of trading today, following acceptance of the settlement by the union.

Major A. W. Stevens, Army Flier, Describes Scene at 25,000 Feet

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 9.—A weary little band of astronomers in the South Pacific packed its delicate instruments today, ready to sail homeward with a valuable cargo of solar eclipse photographs.

The expedition of the United States Navy and National Geographic Society, breaking camp on tiny Canton Island, said in a radio broadcast to its Washington sponsors that the 8,000-mile journey to record yesterday's total eclipse was "a rare success."

The scientists' study will not end, however, until after months of painstaking research into hundreds of photographs which the 16 men snapped during the 213 seconds of totality. It was the longest eclipse in 12 centuries.

Dr. S. A. Mitchell, leader of the expedition, said his spectroscopic photographs "went through without a hitch," preserving a pictorial record of the sun's corona—a dazzling pearly light darting like blue streamers for millions of miles around the blotted-out sun.

Dr. Paul A. McNally, director of Georgetown University Observatory, reported that his photographs showed exceptional detail.

The expedition members will rush their negatives in air-cooled compartments to Honolulu. They expect to leave Hawaii for home on June 11.

LIMA, Peru, June 9.—(AP)—From an airplane nearly five miles up, from Andean peaks and from sea-side stations jubilant scientists reported today Tuesday they had observed and recorded the total eclipse of the sun under almost perfect conditions.

American, Japanese and Peruvian scholars chose the one small continental area from which the longest solar eclipse in more than 1,200 years could be seen in totality—a narrow band across northern Peru.

They saw it near sundown, totality beginning at 5:21 p. m. (Peruvian and E. S. T.), when the sun was 10 to 15 degrees above the horizon.

Major Albert W. Stevens, American army aviator observing for the American Museum of Natural History, reported by radio he had reached a height of 25,000 feet, kept his plane in the path of totality about three and a half minutes and had achieved "splendid results in wonderful visibility."

Major Stevens said his cameras recorded both motion and still pictures of the sun's corona and of the sun's corona and of the approaching and departing shadow. During totality he was flying above the Pacific ocean between Trujillo and Chimbote.

Reports from mountain stations said Indians—who had been frightened as the darkness grew—rang church bells and piped on their primitive flutes when the eclipsed.

POWER EMPLOYEES STRIKE IN THE SAGINAW VALLEY

Bring Shutdown of Major Industries In Numerous Cities

DISREGARD REPORT OF SETTLEMENT

Near 100,000 Workers Idle and 400,000 Residents Inconvenienced

By The Associated Press

FLINT, Mich., June 9.—Striking Consumers Power Co. employees, disregarding announcement of a settlement and appeals of labor leaders, shut down all major industries in the Saginaw Valley today.

The industrial paralysis became complete when General Motors plants at Saginaw closed at noon. Strikers holding the giant power plant at Zilwaukee allotted Saginaw only 20,000 kilowatts.

Saginaw had electric lights, but Bay City, Flint and several hundred smaller communities in 13 counties were without electricity except for hospitals and public service.

The general hospital at Bay City was without power. The Flint fire alarm system was inoperative until storage batteries were connected to the circuit.

Nearly 100,000 industrial workers were idle. At least 400,000 residents of the valley were inconvenienced.

The strikers' negotiating committee was flying home from Washington to transmit to the strikers terms of a settlement which, according to reports, called for a wage increase of five cents an hour. The strikers had demanded a 20-cent increase and some of them declared they would not go back to work for less.

Governor Frank Murphy, in Pittsburgh to deliver a commencement address, declared that "matters of this nature exhaust all patience" and indicated the state would act unless service were restored by nightfall.

L. G. Oberhauser, superintendent of the Consumers Power Company's giant power plant at Zilwaukee, between Saginaw and Bay City, said the power load there had been reduced 80 per cent. That is the principal source of electricity for the valley.

Strikers were picketing the plant. There were unofficial reports of dissatisfaction among the strikers with the wage increases the company agreed to make.

In Washington, representatives of the power company and the committee for industrial organization said only that a "substantial increase" had been granted, along with time and one-half for overtime and double time for Sunday and holiday work. The agreement would be retroactive to May 10 and would be effective until March 1, 1938.

Reports here said the proposed increase amounted to $8.55 a month.

Homer Martin, international president of the United Automobile Workers of America, informed Governor Frank Murphy's office at Lansing that he had a meeting of local union heads at Flint and would demand that they restore service immediately.

TWO LOSE LIVES IN FARM HOME FIRE

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., June 9.—Mrs. Orville Latham, 31, and her 9-year-old daughter, Pauline, were burned to death in their two room farm home five miles north of here about 6:30 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Latham, who escaped with minor cuts and burns, said he did not know whether the fire was caused by explosion of a coal oil stove which his wife had just lighted, or by lightning.

Latham and four sons, Paul, 11, Norman, 6; Darrel, 4; and Jerry, 1, were sleeping in one room of the house. Mrs. Latham and Pauline had gone to the kitchen to get breakfast.

The father and boys left the house by the front door. Latham ran around the house and into the kitchen, bringing Mrs. Latham out. She died at a hospital here a few hours later.

The case will be tried before Judge W. E. Barton of Houston in the 19th judicial circuit. Judge Barton will set a trial date next Saturday. The case was originally scheduled to be tried on June 15. Kenyon is held in jail at West Plains.

SOME CONFUSION FIRST DAY ADDED TAX EFFECTIVE

Several Arguments Over Required Number of Bottle Caps

With the two percent sales tax becoming effective Tuesday morning merchants became more insistent on the collection of mills. The promise of "bringing one in the next time" is no longer accepted.

The question of how many mills should be collected was the clerk's biggest problem. Making of change was often accompanied by an argument between clerk and customer. Many persons who have been lax in paying the tax were forced to "hand over" the extra bottle tops.

The Sedalia Chamber of Commerce notified many of the merchants early in the day of the added tax. Others learned of it through the newspapers. All agreed that although the additional one per cent will be beneficial it is some job to figure their returns for this month. Business men must collect one percent or all sales prior to June 8 and the new levy from then on. Of the latter they are permitted to retain three percent as a fee for collecting the tax.

In approximately two months the new zinc tokens will be in general use. They probably will be distributed to each town in alphabetical order.

The Missouri tokens will be slightly smaller than a quarter with a perforated center. Many of the states have already placed in use zinc and aluminum tokens. They vary in size and shape. Colorado has a square one-fifth cent piece; Louisiana has a token slightly larger than a nickel with a triangular perforation; the state of Washington has a token titled "Tax on purchase—Ten cents or less."

Oklahoma's first experiment in sales tax tokens ended disastrously for the owners of vending machines and pay telephones. The tokens were made the size of a nickel and for a time telephone calls and cigarettes in Oklahoma were the cheap in the world, one mill. These tokens were replaced with ones slightly larger.

ADDRESS GIVEN
CHURCH GROUPS
BY REV. GLENN

Dinner Meeting Is Held by Associated Churches Tuesday Night

Rev. John C. Glenn, presiding elder of the M. E. church, South, Kansas City district, discussed the "Fellowship of Churches" before 150 persons attending the banquet for ministers and laymen of churches of the city affiliated with the Ministers Alliance.

The dinner, sponsored by the Associated Churches of Sedalia, was held at 6:30 o'clock last night at the First Christian church. Serving was done by the ladies of the churches.

Dr. Glenn, speaking of the so-called decline in religion, stated that religion was so much a part of human nature that it is felt even in the savage breast.

"It is the silent, inconspicuous force that sets the course of history," he said, "and not the noise of jazz music, nor the roar of the press."

Praise was given by Dr. Glenn for the work being done by the group he addressed, stating that it was an original idea for a town the size of Sedalia to attempt such an activity.

Rev. J. C. English, pastor of M. E. church, South, introduced the presiding elder, Dr. Glenn.

Rev. Q. R. Wright, chairman of the Associated Churches of Sedalia, stated last night that the organization was composed of four laymen and one preacher from each of ten churches in Sedalia, besides the Salvation Army and the Jewish Synagogue.

Included in the organization are four departments, stated Rev. Wright. He introduced the chairman of each committee who in turn told of the activity of his respective group. The chairman and groups are: Youth's Activity, Irwin Raut; Religious Education, C. F. Scotten; Civic Affairs, Dr. J. E. Cannaday; and Extension Committee, Henry C. Salveter. Arrangements for the dinner last night were made by Mr. Salveter.

Seated at the head table were the ministers of the various churches of Sedalia. Invocation was given by Rev. Dwight H. Willett while Rev. R. A. Park offered thanks, concluding the dinner session.

Group singing was led by J. T. Alexander throughout the dinner. Mrs. Glen Moser accompanied at the piano.

LAST GOODBYES TO GLAMOR GIRL OF MOVIELAND

Intimate Friends at Services In Little Chapel at Glendale

By The Associated Press.

GLENDAL, Calif., June 9.—Beneath gray skies with darkening clouds those who knew Jean Harlow best gathered sadly today for the funeral of the screen's platinum blonde star.

In the Wee Kirk O' The Heather Chapel the coffin rested in breath-taking banks of flowers.

It was blan'eted with 1,500 lilies of the valley, and 500 gardenias, which the mother, Mrs. Marino Bello, and her sweetheart, William Powell, provided.

Gardenias were her favorite flower.

One of the first to appear in the little chapel of farewell was Warner Baxter. Soon after him came Carole Lombard, then Clark Gable, leading man in her unfinished picture.

Next was Nelson Eddy, whose tribute in the simple services was the singing of "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life." With Eddy was his companion, Jeannette MacDonald, in sad but rich voice saying her farewell in Jean Harlow's favorite song, "Indian Love Call."

Soon the 250 intimate friends had passed through the gate. That was all the police permitted within the memorial park.

There were Lionel Barrymore, Wallace Beery, Billie Burke, Virginia Bruce, Joan Crawford, Ronald Colman, Sid Grauman, Myrna Loy, Una Meriel, Ramon Navarro, Chester Morris, Maureen O'Sullivan, Mae Robson, Charles Rogers, Rosalind Russell, Norma Shearer, Robert Young, Spencer Tracy, Joan Bennett, Kay Francis, Robert Benchley, Madge Evans, Elissa Landi, Edna May Oliver, Lewis Stone, and others.

Brief was the Christian Science service read by Mrs. Genevieve Smith, for seven years confidante of the actress.

The pallbearers escorting the casket to the mausoleum were those with whom Miss Harlow had worked—Clark Gable, Edward J. Mannix, M-G-M executive; Hunt Stromberg, producer; Jack Conway and W. S. Van Dyke, directors; and Ray June, cameraman.

In less than twenty minutes the services were completed. Jeannette MacDonald opened with the simple song which the glamor girl so often in life had asked to hear—"Indian Love Call."

Miss MacDonald was attired in pink.

Mrs. Smith read the simple service—David's Psalm, "The Lord Is My Shepherd," a passage from John, a few words from the key to the scriptures, and then spoke a 38-second eulogy.

"There isn't any one here that knows Jean but knows the nobility of the soul she possesses."

The coffin was left in its bower of flowers in the chapel. Later it was removed to an adjoining vault, to await the final decision of the mother.

Miss Harlow's was a life of anomalies, in big things and little. She played hard-boiled sirens and her mother called her "baby." A figure of persistent domestic tragedy with three marriages ended in two divorces and a suicide. "A good scout" without qualification, based on marital snarls. She called herself Hollywood's worst actress and had few rivals at the box office. Reputedly worth a million dollars, she drove her own automobile and answered her own telephone.

The dramatic situations in which she was involved extended even into the mortuary chapel where efforts were made to keep funeral services as quiet as her publicized career and varied contacts would permit. The restricted group of mourners included the star's mother, Mrs. Jean Bello, and two former husbands, one of them Miss Harlow's father; and two former husbands and a bereaved sweetheart of the actress herself.

Interest there centered on William Powell, screen actor who made public declaration of his love just after Miss Harlow's death—"why did this have to be? I loved her, I loved her."

Admitted By Card

Only 200 or so were admitted, by card, to the funeral services. These were, for the most part, her associates in motion picture work—Clark Gable, Spencer Tracy, Lionel Barrymore, Warner Baxter, Frank Morgan and others who were starred with her; W. S. Van Dyke, who directed many of her films; Ray June, her cameraman, and several studio executives.

Among the mourners were Charles McGrew, Ill., wealthy sportsman who married her when she was only 16; Hal Rosson, her third husband from whom she was divorced in 1934; her father, R. Mont Clair Carpenter of Kansas City, and her former stepfather, Marino Bello, who came to his ex-wife's aid in her sorrow.

Her second husband was Paul Bern, film producer, whose death a few months after their wedding is still somewhat mysterious, without full explanation of motives for suicide.

At the request of Mrs. Bello, who sought to avoid mob scenes which have attended funerals of some screen stars in the past, the body will not lie in state. The mother mansion, Columbus, Friday afternoon, at 2 o'clock.

Gov. Davey Calls Conference On The Steel Strike

"No coercion is intended or implied, but in the interest of public peace and safety, you cannot refrain from fair discussion of the problems around the conference table. Nothing should be done in the meantime to incite anger and retaliation."

The governor gave no indication as to what compromise plan, if any, he would offer. Murray, at his previous meeting with the governor, said he would not consider any arbitration plan except one coming from President Roosevelt.

Asks Labor Investigation
WASHINGTON, June 9.—Senator Copeland (D-NY) called today for a general senate labor investigation, covering not only the strike-troubled steel industry but other major industries as well.

The New York senator said the investigators should seek a solution to general labor problems along the lines of the railway act as applied to the specific problems of railway labor.

Copeland was commenting to reporters on a request by Phillips Murray of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee for a senate inquiry into the steel strike.

The senator said he approved the idea but that it should include shipping and other major industries as well.

"We ought to cover the whole labor problem—shipping as well as steel," Copeland said. "Somebody has got to work out a plan whereby instead of sitting down and stopping industry these problems can be worked out along the lines of the way they are handled under the railway labor act."

He said he had no knowledge of the situation in the steel industry but in the maritime industry the labor problem was "very serious."

He said he discussed it yesterday with the senate commerce committee, of which he is chairman, in executive session and asked them to think it over "because something must be done."

He said he had made no specific proposal to the committee.

Murray's proposal for a general inquiry into the steel strike followed demands by Senator Bridges (R-NH) for an investigation into alleged censorship and interference with mail in the strike area.

Bridges agreed to submit to the senate postoffice committee Murray's request for a broad inquiry into the steel situation.

Civilians As Police
MONROE, Mich., June 9.—City officials mobilized one hundred civilians as special police today in advance of an announced move to re-open the strike-closed Newton Steel Co. plant despite opposition of the Committee for Industrial Organization.

The civilians augment a normal police force of 20 and 50 special deputies assembled by Sheriff Joseph Baitley. As they were sworn in by Mayor Daniel A. Knaggs at the city hall, CIO leaders claimed strikers attempting to prevent reopening of the plant tomorrow morning would be supported by "5,000 or 10,000" union men from Detroit.

Last minute efforts to reach a peaceful agreement to permit non-striking workers to return to their jobs were arranged this afternoon with George A. Krogsdahl, state labor commissioner representing Governor Frank Murphy, participating.

SOLUTION FOR TAYLOR SLAYING IS POSSIBILITY

Los Angeles Paper Says Jury Be Asked To Indict Two

By The Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, June 9.—Published reports that indictments will shortly be asked in connection with the 15-year-old slaying of William Desmond Taylor, ace screen director, drew this comment today from District Attorney Byron Fitts.

"We are as close to an arrest in the Taylor case as we were when Taylor was murdered 15 years ago," Joe Taylor, assistant chief of police, said no arrests were imminent.

LOS ANGELES, June 9.—The Examiner in a copyrighted story today said the county grand jury soon will be asked to indict at least two persons for the 15-year-old slaying of William Desmond Taylor, noted screen director.

A person never before under suspicion has been linked as a central figure in the celebrated but officially unsolved crime, the Examiner stated.

Eugene Williams, chief investigator for the district attorney's office was quoted as saying:

"I am confident that at last we are on the right track and that this investigation will solve this case after all these years."

Taylor, a dynamic moulder of film drama and an enigmatic personality in private life, was shot to death on the night of February 1, 1922. His body, sprawled on his apartment floor, was found the next morning by a Negro houseman.

Revival of the investigation, the Examiner said, was marked by the discovery of a bullet by x-ray examination in its hiding place of 14 years.

The bullet was thrown away by a witness, the newspaper stated, at the instructions of a woman he named. It is similar in every respect to the bullet removed from Taylor's body, the Examiner said.

The witness said he was given the bullet, still unfired, in 1923. The pistol from which it was taken was retained by the woman, the Examiner said he reported.

Additional statements have been taken from a man who entered the case for the first time several days ago, relative to a conversation he heard on the afternoon preceding Taylor's shooting. This corroborated testimony of death threats against the director, the Examiner said.

The newspaper said it learned Williams recently questioned Mrs. Faith Cole McVey, former wife of Film Producer Douglas MacLean, who with her then husband occupied a bungalow adjoining the Taylor quarters. She told of seeing a man leaving the premises shortly after she heard the fatal shot and is the only known witness who can identify him, the Examiner said.

Discuss Plan To Bring Millions To Treasuries

tutional amendment probably would be necessary.

Treasury officials reported the government could make its future security issues taxable simply by enactment of a law. They added, however, that unless all states and political subdivisions took similar action, interest rates on federal obligations would rise to exorbitant levels.

Commerce department figures showed about $58,000,000,000 of exempt or partially exempt securities outstanding. If these yielded an average of 4 per cent, removal of all present exemptions would subject about $2,320,000,000 to income taxation.

Less revenue would be realized, treasury officials said, from removal of tax exemptions because most of them are in lower brackets, where low tax rates prevail. One authority estimated receipts from that source at less than $100,000,000.

Federal employees now pay only federal income taxes and state employees pay only state taxes.

The house resolution, passed without a record vote, would require a special committee of six senators and six representatives to give approval before confidential information on tax returns could be made public.

Almost unrestricted authority to publish income tax returns was voted by the senate last week after President Roosevelt condemned tax evasion and avoidance. The two versions must be reconciled before the inquiry can start.

The house debate yesterday included frequent reference to J. P. Morgan's statement that taxation was a legal and not a moral question.

Rep. Boileau (Prog-Wis) said he agreed, although he added it was unusual for him to be supporting the financier.

Rep. Harlan (D-Ohio) asked: "How can you avoid a feeling of loathing, a feeling of resentment and detestation when you read his (Morgan's) statement?"

"Here it is," he (Harlan) said: "You do only what you are compelled to do by law."

"This is the greatest financier in the United States talking."

"That sentiment, Mr. Speaker, is rugged individualism in the raw. It is the directing sentiment of the confidence man, the cheat, the exploiter. He owes nothing to society, or human decency. He takes generously of the blessings of civilization, but only contributes what is taken from him by law."

"It is just as true now as of old. The defense of sin is the law."

ESCAPED MANIAC KILLED BY OFFICER

By The Associated Press.

MILLSBURY, Mass., June 9.—An aged mother's appeals were in vain, her fears realized today: Her son, an escaped maniac, lay dead, loser in a strange, wordless gun fight in the dark.

A small town policeman, Elliott Hairyres, ended a two-day reign of terror, by killing the maniac, Homer Robbins, 31, who had been sought since he escaped Sunday afternoon from state hospital attendants and headed for the woods near his Sutton farmhouse home.

Patrolman Hairyres trapped Robbins early today near the town's railroad yards, emptied his gun in the duel, and himself was wounded in the hip. At Worcester hospital Hairyres, not seriously hurt, said simply:

"I'm glad I got him."

Robbins' mother, Mrs. P. Orrin Putnam, had trudged through water-soaked woods during the search, calling for her son to give himself up. State police withdrew during her appeal.

"He'd kill them, or they'd kill him," she had predicted.

Told by a citizens that Robbins was near the railroad yards, Hairyres, with two citizens, George Caplette and Charles Stockdale, drove to the yards and parked his car. As he got out, Robbins, hiding behind another parked 10 foot away, fired six shots at the officer. Hairyres pulled his own gun and emptied it at the form in the dark. Neither had spoken a word.

Robbins fled, Hairyres collapsed. State troopers found Robbins' body in an abandoned cellar hole.

Robbins had fled after firing at a state trooper who, accompanied by hospital attendants, sought to return him to the hospital, from which he had escaped in February.

Obscene letters to Sutton girls led to his commitment.

Yesterday all the forces of the state were pressed into the hunt, for farm doors had been barred and school children frightened. The maniac nightly since Sunday had approached his farm and fired at patrolling police.

DEAN HANDCUFFS GIANTS AND CARL HUBBELL 8 TO 1

League Leaders Are Let Down With Three Hits By Cardinal Ace

By The Associated Press.

NEW, YORK, June 9.—Dizzy Dean outpitched his southpaw rival, Carl Hubbell, by a wide margin today as the St. Louis Cardinals handed the league-leading New York Giants an 8 to 1 trouncing. Dean allowed only three hits and fanned six batters.

Two Giants' errors gave the Cards a single run in the opening inning, but thereafter they scored on their batting merits. All told, they wallowed Hubbell for 13 hits, including Ducky Medwick's tenth home run of the season. They picked up two more hits and a single run in the ninth of Dick Coffman.

Dean should have had a shut-out. A two-base wild throw by Leo Duracher of a grounder by Lou Chiozza put the batter on second from where he scored on George Davis' single. Davis got two of the three hits Dean allowed, the other going to Jimmy Riddle.

A crowd of 50,000 saw the battle. First game of a double bill.

The victory enabled Dean to square accounts for the season with Hubbell. The Giants' ace earned a 4-1 decision over the Cardinals' right hander in a riotous game at St. Louis May 19. It was Hubbell's second defeat of the campaign against eight victories. Dean also has won eight games, but has been beaten four times.

PICKETS HOLD UP BUILDING PROJECT

By The Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., June 9.—Six pickets in shifts of two continued to circle the post office project here as a strike against the use of Cardthage stone enters its second day. Small groups of the 75 union men employed on the building stood around waiting for the pickets to go away.

Bob Andrews, A. F. of L. organizer here, blamed the use of the Carthage marble, which is not produced by union labor. "We warned them four months ago we weren't going to use that stone," Andrews said. He said "negotiations" were under way with Master Builders' Association of Chicago, an organization of contractors, and that some decision was expected tonight.

The superintendent of construction at the post office, Henry Van Nieuwenhuize, said he had heard nothing from either side.

SOME STOCKS IN MODERATE ADVANCE

NEW YORK, June 9.—Although Wall Street's will appeared paralyzed by strike news today, traders found energy to bid up specialties and shipbuilding issues fractions to a point or so.

Declines of fractions to around a point for the general list reflected continuance of the seven-state steel strike, the power strike in the Saginaw Valley of Michigan and threats of a strike in the silk industry, brokers said.

Stocks started narrow, rose unevenly and then paced back. Frequently during the afternoon the stock ticker registered a complete stop.

Transactions totaled about 650,000 shares.

RECOGNITION TO BIRTH CONTROL

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 9.—The birth control policy adopted by the American Medical Association means far more than contraception as this change in medical policy was viewed today by some of the physicians who lead this association's medical thought.

Under the Hippocratic oath, the doctors who talked today would not permit use of their names.

The long delay in recognizing birth control as legitimate and necessary medical practice, they said, was due to religious objections and the wish of some physicians of influence to wait until public opinion had entirely crystallized in favor of birth control.

The first principle adopted in the association's new birth control policy aims to meet conflicting state laws and the fact that court decisions from time to time change the legal status of contraceptive practices.

The association will attempt to inform the doctors of their legal rights and privileges under the law. Their practice in contraception is to be left to their own consciences.

The second paragraph of the new code is aimed at investigation of contraceptives already available. Some of the instruments used have been held indirectly to cause cancer by the irritation they produce.

LESSONS GIVEN IN JUDGING BAKING

The leaders, and some of the girls of the food clubs of the county, met in the assembly room of the court house Tuesday afternoon and were given lessons in how to judge baked products, by Miss Flora Lee Carl, nutrition specialist of the University of Missouri. They will then impart knowledge to the club members.

Whole wheat bread, white bread, rolls, muffins, biscuits and cookies were judged and the judging explained as it took place.

There were eight leaders and fourteen girls present.

The meeting was arranged by Mrs. Claire L. Montgomery, county home demonstration agent, who assisted Miss Carl.

B. F. Parker of La Monte, was named a director of the Missouri Funeral Directors' Association at the fiftieth annual convention of the directors, held in St. Louis Tuesday.

HOUSE ORDERS A SWEEPING PROBE ON TAX DODGING

Joint Committees Will Investigate Levy Evasion

WASHINGTON, June 9.—(AP)—The house ordered a sweeping investigation of "tax dodging" Tuesday after a spirited debate which touched several times on the tax-payment philosophy just expressed by J. P. Morgan.

Members referred repeatedly to Morgan's statement of yesterday that "taxing is a legal question, pure and simple, not a moral one. Anyone has a right to do anything as long as the law does not say it is wrong. I object strenuously to treating income-tax evasion as a moral issue."

The house cheered lustily when Representative Harlan (D-Ohio) referred to this statement with the question: "How can you avoid a feeling of loathing, a feeling of resentment and detestation when you read that statement?"

The house passed, with amendments, a senate resolution providing an inquiry by a joint house and senate committee. Sponsors of the amendments said they were designed to prevent ill-considered publication of portions of tax information.

The changes modified a measure which had the approval of the administration and were accompanied by expressions of resentment from members of both parties at what they termed efforts to control the activities and policies of congress.

The resolution, introduced by administration leaders upon receipt last week of President Roosevelt's message asking an investigation of alleged tax evasions, now goes to the senate for consideration of house amendments.

Representative Boileau (P-Wis) said it was unusual for him to be defending J. P. Morgan, but that he agreed tax evasion was a legal and not a moral question. If congress leaves "loopholes in the laws," he said, "you can't blame others for taking advantage of them."

TELLS GRADUATES 'FUTURE OF THE NATION SECURE'

Dr. C. B. Hutchison In Commencement Address at University

COLUMBIA, Mo., June 9.—Dr. C. B. Hutchison, dean of the college of agriculture at the University of California, today urged graduates at the University of Missouri to set as their objective "the promotion of the welfare of the people as a whole."

Speaking at the school's 95th commencement exercises, where he was honored today, along with three other distinguished Missourians, with the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws, Dean Hutchison expressed faith in education as a means of solving economic and social problems.

"The future of this state and nation is secure," he told the robed graduates, "if you approach problems in a truly scientific and scholarly manner, free from prejudice and bigotry."

Admitting that change was a safeguard against stagnation and decline, he declared it should be orderly, instead of occurring in "an explosive break with its attendant tragedy in the lives of whole nations of people."

"I would have you be neither so tragically out of joint with your times," he added, "nor so infatuated with Communism or Fascism as to be willing to throw overboard the substantial background and sound foundations that are your rightful heritage from the greatness of the past."

"I introduce this note of apparent alarm because I see in these troubled days many evidences of muddled thinking, of hasty and ill-conceived plans of action, in attempts to remedy conditions that are not as they should be."

Characterizing universities as "organized agencies of society for the discovery and dissemination of truth," he asserted "they can only function effectively when given freedom."

"They must be free from the heavy hand of government, free from the pressure of politicians and newspapers, free from the rule of those who give them money, and unaffected by fear or favor."

"Under the dictatorship of the totalitarian state," he added, "the function of the university in relation to the people becomes that of propagandist for the reigning order."

"We have always had demagogues with us who have swayed an unthinking, though vociferous minority, but never before has the state been so perfectly set for the creation of a powerful majority."

"It is," he continued, "imbued with the fantasy of regimentation for the common good, with direct methods of attainment based on wishful thinking, rather than factual and intelligent planning."

Commenting on legislation recently passed in several countries, calculated to aid agriculture following political and economic upheavals of the world war, he said:

"Quotas, embargoes, tariffs and the like have clogged the channels of international trade and have brought in their wake production control, benefit payments and outright subsidies, camouflaged sometimes, for political purposes, as conservation measures, in an attempt to correct evil and to offset disturbances."

"The danger today," he declared, "now that the immediate crisis is passed, is that we may attribute to these emergency measures more credit for agriculture recovery than they merit."

The result, he said, was attempts to mold policies and develop permanent procedure based upon "doubtful results of emergency measures."

TRIO OF NATIVE SONS HONORED AT UNIVERSITY

Gen. Craig and Two Educators Receive Degrees There Today

By The Associated Press.
COLUMBIA, Mo., June 9.—The University of Missouri honored three distinguished native sons today, two of them alumni with honorary degrees of Doctor of Laws at the school's 95th annual commencement exercises.

Dr. Frederick A. Middlebush, president, conferred the degrees upon General Mallin Craig, chief of staff of the United States Army; Claude B. Hutchison, dean of the university of California College of Agriculture; and Prof. James P. McBaine, professor of law in the School of Jurisprudence at the University of California.

General Craig, who pursued a military education instead of attending his state university, was cited by President Middlebush for his "unenviable record as a soldier" from the time he graduated from the United States Military Academy in 1898, until he passed through all grades of promotion to become general and chief of staff.

Dr. Middlebush cited the general's "memorable services in foreign campaigns, and the distinguished service medal he received from the United States and decorations from five foreign governments."

"In honoring you today," said Dr. Middlebush, "you take your place with two other distinguished officers of the United States Army who have been granted honorary degrees by this university: General John J. Pershing and General Enoch Crowder."
